ANOTHER SEASON..

Just when everyone has completely lost all hope in the series of April drenchings that travel up the coast from the south, the launchings begin. In the one brief flash of sunlight that has appeared in recent months, we spotted these shining new arrivals at Burr Brothers in Marion. These have just hit the harbor but there are a surprising number in the slips as we see in the photo below.

Taylor for a scallop aquaculture license for a section of water off Mattapoisett Neck. It was indicated by the 65 residents at the first hearing on April 10th that the concept was acceptable but that the location was not suitable. Mr. Taylor agreed at the April 10th meeting to return with a different proposal.

After Mr. Taylor's first proposal was denied by Selectmen following the first hearing, he came before the board last Tuesday with a new proposal which would split the 100 acres first sought into two 50 acre sites, which he felt would not conflict with either the lobstermen or the many boaters living on Mattapoisett Neck.

At the Selectmen's suggestion, Mr. Taylor agreed to speak to several key people in Mattapoisett who have concerns before the second hearing on May 1st. The board also suggested Mr. Taylor bring a knowledgeable spokesperson and some residents of Fairhaven who could speak on the successful project in that town.

Mr. Taylor asked Selectmen if they are in favor of an aquaculture site which would cover an area of water with dropped nets holding scallop seed until it grows to harvestable size, then sold for public consumption. Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney said it all depends on what period of time we are talking about. Mr. Taylor said he is trying to get a 10-year license. The cost to start and operate this aquaculture project is about two million, so the longer time the better not only financially for himself but the banks would be more agreeable to a loan on the longer term basis, Mr. Taylor explained. There would be about 28 people working on the site. (Selectmen had originally granted a five-year license with an option to renew for five more years, but this was rescinded after the first public hearing.) Selectman Mahoney asked Mr. Taylor if he could live with the five-year term. "I guess it can fly, but I prefer a longer term." "I need 100 acres to make it worthwhile", he said in response to a question if he could operate with only one 50 acre site.

His new proposal would split 100 acres into two 50 acre sites or three blocks of acreage, whichever combination works best. He said, "There were a lot of people at the hearing who commented they wanted to travel between Ned's Point and Cormorant Rock, so this split would create a navigable side."

Selectman Bernard F. Talty suggested a site off West Island near the Mattapoisett line; however, Mr. Taylor explained the bottom in this area is sticky mud - termed anoxic, meaning no oxygen, plus the winds are too strong and kicks up the mud. "I had a bad experience with this area before when the seed died in the nets. After being checked by a pathologist, it was determined the seed died of lack of oxygen in the anoxic mud. The bank would not loan money for that area.

"I've been studying scallops since the early 1970s and providing seed in cages where they can survive. You need successful spawning; eggs are produced through the process. After the spawn produces and dies you have to wait years before larvae comes to your

In other business, Selectmen:

ANNOUNCED that Selectman Mahoney had spoken with Mr. Edmundo Pedro, business representative of AFSCME (American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Union) and an agreement had been reached to reinstate the town mechanic position on a part-time basis.

Selectmen unanimously voted the proposal presented which includes: To transfer the job of town mechanic from the Highway Department to the Board of Selectmen; administration and supervision of the employee of the town filling the job to be exclusively the responsibility of the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen (John N. DeCosta at this time); to change the job description of town mechanic from full-time to part-time and to provide that the town mechanic shall be generally available to render emergency road service to motor vehicles and equipment of the town on weekends and nights; to amend the agreement between AFSCME, AFL-CIO, State Council 93, Local 30, and the Town, dated June 22, 1988, to implement the foregoing votes; to post the new part-time job of town mechanic, there being a vacancy, for five working days and to award the job to the most senior qualified applicant, all as provided in Article 25 of the June 22, 1988 agreement.

Selectman Mahoney said his personal meeting with Mr. Pedro was short and direct and most open. Mr. Pedro agreed to waive any claim on an unfair labor practice against the town. The only provision Mr. Pedro mentioned was that the position be under the Union and that the job vacancy be posted in a conspicuous place, with hours of work and salary. Those places will be the Town Hall and the Town Barn; it is not necessary to advertise in the press.

Highway Surveyor Wesley Bowman and his wife Barbara were at the meeting and heard the decision. After the meeting when he was asked if he was happy with the decision, Mr. Bowman smiled and exclaimed, "Very happy!"

MET WITH the Finance Committee, whose Chairman Elizabeth Kunz said, "to compare notes as to how we can pare the budget down to pass the May 21 annual town meeting without overrides". She noted the gross budgets will be changed this year with the Enterprise Fund taken out: The Water Department (water operation and expenses - not the sewer operation part) and the Waterfront/Harbor Fund. The Landfill Enterprise Fund will be voted on at the meeting to become effective.

Mrs. Kunz said the local school budget is up 20 percent but most of the increase is due to last year's uncertainty and the cuts that they had to make last year. The local School Committee made major cuts in its budget, she noted.

Member Robert Banz said he suggested to the committee a wage increase of 2½ percent be recommended and not the usual five percent increase. "I think it's time to reconsider how much pay raises should be. We could recommend 2½ percent at town meeting, with the additional 2½ percent put on an override and put up to the voters."

Selectmen Chairman DeCosta said the school department and police, highway and water departments are based on union wage scale increases. "You'll be giving five percent to these people and ask the few Town Hall employees to take 2½ percent; this doesn't sound fair." Mr. Banz responded, saying "we could suggest the unions keep the increases down, subject to funding." The Selectmen noted all wage increases are subject to funding but "we have an obligation to pay them if we can".

Mrs. Kunz explained the tentative figures for fiscal 1991: the maximum allowable tax levy limit is $5,350,000; the estimated sum required to fund the current budget is $7,474,000; with all available funds included, it is estimated that $7,049,000 would be available without budget overrides. She said she hated to see overrides, but mentioned an "early" list of suggestions of overrides: $110,550 for the Mattapoisett School Committee, 5.5 percent of its budget; $98,736, 5.5 percent of Old Rochester Regional District School Committee's budget; $100,000 Blue Cross/Blue Shield (FinCom does not recommend this for an override); $4,500 Community Band; $57,500 portion of tarring streets and roads; $22,000 bathing beach; $68,000 rubbish collection.

Professor of Electrical Engineering at Southeastern Massachusetts University (SMU), to conduct research testing off Long Wharf and Barstow Wharf. A third site will be from the Mattapoisett Boat Yard near Ned's Point and has been approved by owner Arthur McLean.

Professor Estes, a Mattapoisett resident, said the Underwater Data Line (UDL) state grant is a three-year project to test underwater vehicles or underwater video. He explained the first test will start April 27th in the day-time and could last a day, with the possibility it could be conducted again in June. This is one of many test sites, including Cape Cod Canal.

The sites will be personally attended by three SMU professors and possibly some graduate students as well as himself, said Mr. Estes. There will be a panel truck parked on the piers; power will be used on Long Wharf and a small generator used on Barstow Wharf as there is no electricity available. He explained a long, shallow receiver, two feet long and four inches around suspended off a beam about three feet off the dock, will take up no more space than a fishing pole. The two transmitters will be at Barstow Wharf and the boatyard.

Harbormaster Steven Mach said "During the week is all right, but not on Saturday. If it is attended it is O.K.; otherwise you could lose expensive equipment with boats cutting across the lines."

GRANTED Mr. Dana Tripp a license to operate the "Ice Cream Slip" on the Town Wharf from May 13 to the weekend after Labor Day. He pays a fee of $150. per year, plus all electricity used by the operation during the summer period. He said last year he remained open until October but this did not prove profitable.

Mr. Tripp asked for the option to leave the Slip overnight rather than having to remove it nightly. "There are times when it is difficult to remove the Slip because of parked cars." Chairman DeCosta said in the past the Board felt it should not be left overnight because of possible vandalism. Selectmen agreed to allow the Slip to remain overnight if there is an unusual incident where the Slip cannot be removed.

Mr. Tripp asked if there was anything the Selectmen could do about the Dairy Man truck parked on the wharf during the busy season. The Chairman explained the company has a state peddler's license and it allows them to park on public ground. Mr. Tripp also asked if the sanitary landfill will be open more than two days during the summer. He said he has to keep trash on his truck for days at a time, with resulting odors. Selectmen advised him to speak to the Board of Health on either a separate dumpster near his Slip or dump trips.

ture of the Enterprise Fund and where the monies will come from. Mr. Dahill said "We were given a copy of the Wharf/Harbor Enterprise Fund and it listed items not previously considered by the former Harbor Rules Committee as part of the Enterprise Fund"; such as the $22,000 for the beach and $7,400 for town parks. "We want to be sure 50% of boat excise taxes goes to the Enterprise Fund, as state law calls for the boat excise taxes to go to waterways uses." Selectmen's Administrator Lois K. Ennis said Peat, Marwick Accountants say yes, these taxes should be in the Enterprise Fund.

Mr. Dahill outlined the tentative budget the Harbor Advisory Committee has compiled for next year: Harbormaster's boat, $20,000; repairs to wharf pilings, $15,500; improvements to the harbormaster's office, $5,000; cost to set up the Enterprise Fund, $2,500; design for new dinghy dock, $1,500; help to defray cost of bathhouse repairs, $3,000.; harbor markers for recreation area, $1,000; fund for Ned's Point guard during summer for 37 days at $65. per day, and a sum for the harbormaster's salary.

Fits on most standard full size tripods. In seconds you can remove your old head and replace it with SLIK AutoFast. SLIK also offers a full line of action tripods with advanced features. Optician

INTO FAMILY EYE CARE

What happens if after trying on a new pair of glasses I still can't see well?

This is a very unusual situation, but it does happen. First, rest assured that all opticians will verify every pair of glasses before they are dispensed. If your new pair of glasses does not improve your vision tell your optician immediately.

Communication between optician and eye doctor is very important, so it is to your advantage that your optician and eye doctor be some way connected. In this way, if you have any pre-existing conditions your eye doctor can more readily communicate this to your optician and he in turn can help you in understanding the problem.

RECEIVED A REPORT from Administrative Assistant Rachel Jupin on the inquiry from New Bedford Chamber of Commerce concerning the hiring of young people for the summer. Mrs. Jupin said the New Bedford group will do the hiring and would pay the young people at $4. per hour. The youngsters would be supervised on a program level but not on an individual level. The New Bedford group said the town of Dartmouth had the program and were satisfied. Selectmen agreed to check further into the program and what the young people could do.

WERE INFORMED by the National Representative of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers that the Mattapoisett police have recently voted to be affiliated with the IBPO and have met with the union and expressed a desire to reopen negotiations with the town. Mr. Dennis E. Anderson, National Representative, is suggesting a meeting as soon as possible.

Selectman Mahoney said he understands the police Chief and Lt. James A. Santos would like to have their contracts reviewed and are asking the Board of Selectmen to consider long-term contracts for them rather than the present three-year appointments. Mr. Mahoney said he is not big on long-term contracts; they benefit the employees and not the town. "You tie yourself up with long-term contracts." Selectmen agreed to wait and discuss this issue further.

On a similar matter, Selectmen received a letter from Mr. Dennis E. Anderson, National Representative of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers concerning the contract the town holds with EMTs. The letter says, in part, "During the month of July 1989 the Town of Mattapoisett discontinued payment of the $600 EMT incentive due to all non-probationary, certified personnel under the current contract. From July 1989 to the present date, the town has failed to act upon any step increases for officers not at the maximum step of their pay grade as provided for in the current contract. Under the contract the obligation of the town to continue to provide all the benefits that were the practice before June 30, 1989 does not lapse. Even if the contract had expired the town can make no unilaterial changes in wages, hours, or terms and conditions of employment that changes the past practices." Mr. Anderson says the town is in violation of both statute and the contract and must immediately cease these violations. If these issues are not resolved within 14 days, the union will be forced to take any and all steps necessary to insure the town complies with the contract.

Selectmen agreed to take the letter under advisement and will discuss the issues later.

Landfill Meeting

APRIL 20

Voters at last October's special town meeting overwhelmingly rejected the proposal to turn the landfill over to SEMASS. It was clear the great majority wanted to keep our landfill and to preserve it for future use.

The Board of Health subsequently appointed a Landfill Advisory Committee to study the problems and make recommendations. That Committee has now developed an operating plan which the Board of Health believes will maintain and preserve the landfill, while reducing the burden on Mattapoisett taxpayers.

An open meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, April 30th, in the Hearing Room at the Town Hall. Come and hear the Committee's recommendations.

The presentation is designed for parents of students who have learning disabilities and attention deficit disorders. It will provide information about the various options for children after high school. There will be an overview of the range of programs available for special needs students at the college level. Techniques for choosing the right post-secondary program will be addressed.

This discussion will also include ways that parents can prepare their son or daughter for college as well as strategies for helping them develop the independent learning and advocacy skills needed to succeed.

Gail Hammond is the coordinator of services for students with learning disabilities at Massachusetts Bay Community College in Wellesley Hills. She has worked as an advocate for students with learning disabilities for the past ten years. She has recently received a three-year federal grant to provide transitional services for students with learning disabilities who are underprepared to meet the demands of college.

Guild and at the Fuller Art Museum in Brockton. She attended Radcliffe College and Maryland Institute of Art. She has won many awards and was included in "World's Who's Who of Women". Her work is in private as well as corporate collections including the Duxbury Art Complex and the Cape Museum of Fine Arts. Concerning the figures she creates, Ms. Egelson states: "I combine differently colored clays to make my sculpture. Some I rub with dry oxides for color before firing them. On others I apply stains and paints after firing them. Rottenstone (a fine, pumice-like substance) is then rubbed on the finished work to give a greying, weathered patina." Much of her work is of Indian women. There is an inward calm and oneness with the universe despite the rigors of their existence that the artist tries to capture in her sculpture. This exhibit is based on the dream images of "the collective unconscious to reveal the universal humanity in all of us".

Bhakti Ziek's large piece (61" x 105") is entitled "Wheel of Life: Three Generations". She has woven and stitched cotton, rayon, wool, metallic thread, dye painted warp and brocade to create this unique piece and others not only as wall hangings but also as three dimensional works. Bhakti is a teacher at the University of Rhode Island and also conducts workshops throughout New England. She received her MFA from Cranbrook Academy of Art in Michigan. While living and studying in Guatemala for five years, Ms. Ziek co-authored the book "Weaving on a Backstrap Loom". She has worked in industry with Jack Lenor Larsen, and her works have

"Feeling fit, feeling fine. Gonna be a 'FitKid' all the time!"

The lyrics are from a stage production for elementary school students, sponsored by Pilgrim HealthCare. Over 50,000 children have participated in this musical, dance-filled energetic production. And, this month, Pilgrim Health Care's "FitKids" are dancing their way into schools in Mattapoisett. In return, the students are learning how to make healthful lifestyle choices through the excitement of this live performance.

"FitKids" is the brain child of Pilgrim Care, a leading Massachusetts Health Maintenance Organization (HMO). The two-year old program challenges children to be the best they can: make healthy food choices, exercise regularly, cut down on television and think positively about themselves.

Pilgrim Health Care utilizes the talents of a Boston theater company known for its children's productions. There are two show versions: Kindergarten through third grade and grades four through six. Both feature original scripts, music, dancing, colorful sets, high energy and creativity. Children's active participation in the show is encouraged.

"Children receive an official 'FitKids' certificate in exchange for their participation in the program, and teachers are given a corresponding lesson plan package that extends and support the 'FitKids' message long after the presentation of the production," Ms. Ahern added. William Reed, the Principal of the Old Hammondtown School in Mattapoisett, says, "FitKids is an effective way of reinforcing our own drug, alcohol and physical education curriculum."

Pilgrim Health Care is a nine-year-old, not-for-profit, federally qualified, health maintenance organization with over 2200 affiliated plan doctors, 53 hospitals in the New England area, and more than 140,000 members.

Memories of Mattapoisett, Part III

MATTAPOISETT IN THE EARLY 1900s

by JENNIE HILLER LUDMAN

Spring was usually on schedule in our village. We had some sunny days in March after the cold wind died down. The corner of Cannon Street and Main was blustering with high winds so that we buttoned our coats tighter to get around the corner light post onto the shopping area which had a variety of stores from Session's Meat Market to Abbe and Griffin's Grocery Store. Between these busy places there was Mrs.

The Mattapoisett Inn

Overlooking Mattapoisett Harbor

"Harry, it's time to take me to the Mattapoisett Inn again."

"But what about my cholesterol?"

"Get with the '90s, Harry, don't you know that the Mattapoisett Inn offers light specials every night, healthy salads, fresh vegetables and pastas, and homemade six-grain rolls? Besides, that, Harry, the Inn makes these fabulous frozen yogurt balls rolled in Granola, and served with fresh fruit. So what's your excuse now, Harry?"

"What are you trying to say? Ya mean that the Mattapoisett Inn loves my ❤ ?"

"Yeh, and if you take me Sunday Night I'll love you too, Harry!"

"Why Sunday night? You know that's my bowling night - with the boys!"

"Ugh! Sunday is Comedy Night. Come on, Harry, why go bowling when we can have a ball at the Inn. My friend Sally said they have three different comedians every week from the Comedy Circuit in Boston, and ....."

"SSSSSSSSHHHHHHHHHH!!!!! I-I-I can't THINK!"

"Well, how much time are you gonna need? Ya gotta have a few laughs, Harry."

"Will it count for your Christmas present?"

"Yeh, that and the mink coat I've had on lay-away for the past five years."

"I didn't know Building 19 sold Mink Coats!"

"OH, stop your whining, and take me dining at the MATTAPOISETT INN!"

The Drug Store was important since there was no other place to buy medicine or fill prescriptions written by our two doctors, Tilden and Blaine.

Beyond the row of stores was "Long Wharf" and the harbor. The harbor could be dangerous for children especially where sailing ships came and docked in deep water. However, I recall only one little boy of 10 falling off the rocks and into the water where he drowned. It was sad. His mother was known as "Big Mary" who lived on Mechanic Street. She used to help my mother with housework at times. It was a sad year, about 1907 or '08 as I recall.

Our harbor was the scene of constant activity. The most memorable event was the summer of 1903 or thereabouts. The New York Yacht Club came to visit and stayed several days. What a sight - our harbor was completely filled with yachts decorated with flags, and the town population increased by visitors from these extravagant boats and their crews. As a little girl of 6, I explained to my brother Matthew who was 7½, "the sailors look so nice in their white suits and caps, bell-bottom trousers, middy blouses with black ties, they must be very good men". But my brother disagreed. "They are not all good." I asked him, "Why do you say that? " He whispered to me,

"I heard one of them swear."

The church offered the major amount of life in town through their many activities. There were five of them that I recall: the Congregational, Baptist, Catholic, Universalist and a small Quaker Meeting House in East Mattapoisett to which my father and his brothers belonged since their boyhood. That meeting house was 1½ miles away, so we children could walk with him only when the weather was good. We liked to go because we were always invited to Sunday dinner by my Uncle Edward and Aunt Ruth who lived near the meeting house.

My mother was active in the Congregational Church. She taught the Bible Class and visited some older members who were not able to come. All of us four children attended Sunday School right after the morning church service. My brother David sang in the choir; my brother Matthew pumped the pipe organ by hand, and I recall they enjoyed being up in the choir loft. The beautiful natural tenor voice of Mr. George Shaw was unforgettable. It was the natural, melodious music that one hears once in a lifetime. Mrs. Shaw was also in the choir adding a strong soprano. So, if I was unable to keep my mind on the sermon, preached by Rev. Julian Tuthill, I was entertained from an early age by the church choir.

Four men who enjoyed singing in public formed a quartet. The bass singer was my brother David. Another was Addison Curtis, the town plumber, and the high tenor was George Shaw. I don't remember the fourth singer. The quartet sang at many gatherings in town - weddings, funerals and programs at our Town Hall. They were often paid for their services. My brother felt quite important.

All of us four children took piano lessons from Abbie Purrington, and brother George had a few violin lessons from Florence Purrington, an excellent musician. Many of the children in town took piano lessons and violin lessons. The cost seems very low to me now. I remember my mother paid 25 cents for piano lessons and 50 cents for violin.

Mother had difficulty making ends meet since my father did not have steady work on the docks in New York. So, mother took in boarders (3, I believe) to make ends meet. The boarders were carpenters who were building the house on our waterfront for the Means family. We children were crowded out of 2 bedrooms for a while but the couches in our "parlor" and "sitting room" helped out for the summer. With the extra income, mother was able to purchase the piano she felt was so important to the background of her four children. My brother David was the one who showed the most talent. I enjoyed hearing him play piano, often accompanied by brother George with the violin, long after I had gone to bed. Sometimes they played "rag time" but mother soon put a stop to that. She insisted on high standards and urged me to practice playing hymns so that I could help out in the Junior Christian Endeavor meeting which was held each Sunday p.m. at 5 o'clock. After this service, under the excellent leadership of Mrs. George Shaw, came the Senior Christian Endeavor meeting at 6 p.m. and after this hour of worship attended by teenagers, came the 7 p.m. Sunday evening hour over which our minister presided. In fact, all day Sunday our family joined others in the five services. Three of the meetings required preparation.

Our church was not only a place for religious gatherings, it was an important leader in our social life. Every month, on the last Thursday, the congregation enjoyed a supper in our vestry. Each meal was contributed and served by a committee of three women, the menu being "Boston Baked Beans", pressed corned beef, homemade brown bread, and a variety of pies and cakes served with coffee or tea. As I recall, all were excellent cooks and the evenings were a great success. The children played games after supper, like "Jenkins Up - Jenkins Down" and had a grand time, as did the parents.

Q. Are those nonprescription reading glasses I see in stores and magazines worthwhile? I only need help for reading and doing needlework.

A. These glasses are simply magnifying lenses mounted in frames. They may seem fine when worn for a couple of minutes in the store but, when used for an hour or more to concentrate on reading or needlework, they may prove unsatisfactory.

They can cause headaches, tired eyes or other eye-strain symptoms. That is because they do not contain your exact lens prescription or because the lenses' optical centers may not be centered with your pupils.

The real risk with these glasses, however, is that you may substitute them for a thorough vision examination. Your optometrist needs to see you every year to make certain your eyes are healthy and determine the exact cause of seeing difficulties. He can then prescribe the lenses your eyes need for long, comfortable hours of reading and doing needlework.

Island Night 6

Mix eight blues brothers with five calypso steel drummers, stir in one funky R&B band and you've got the recipe for a roof-raising, rhythm-jumping, dance-till-you-drop Island Night 6 -- the Zeiterion Theatre's annual fund-raiser concert and party on Saturday, May 12, at 8 p.m. This year the good times and great music are sponsored by Coyne Textile Services, serving the New Bedford community for 30 years.

Pull out those Hawaiian shirts, cut-off shorts and beachcomber sandals because Island Night 6 is the time to party with the swinging sounds of Roomful of Blues, with special guests the Funky White Honkies and Atlantic Clarion Steel Band. There'll also be food and refreshments -- and at evening's end everyone attending will get a free Island Night poster (suitable for framing).

Count Basie called Rhode Island's Roomful of Blues the hottest blues band he ever heard. The band's five-man horn section dishes up some of the best swing-rooted jump blues of the 40s and 50s. With a reputation for being hotter than a cajun barbecue, Roomful is one of the most popular bands around the country, drawing large crowds wherever it plays. Roomful also has toured some of the best European music festivals including Stockholm and Montreux. During the band's nearly 20 year career, Roomful has been nomi-

Southeastern New England's Funky White Honkies play for the sheer fun of it. The popular band -- which number 16 members -- formed about 15 years ago as a local party band. Known for playing some of the best good-time, fun-loving rock and blues anywhere, the band's hot sound is in demand throughout New England, playing at music festivals and appearing at popular clubs like Allston's Bunratty's. The band draws from the whole range of R&B to rock and roll, with covers of hits by NRBQ, James Brown, Fats Domino, Aretha Franklin (to name a few) as well as its own originals.

Rounding out Island Night 6 is dance club favorite, the Atlantic Clarion Steel Band. Founder and bandleader Carl Chase first heard the sounds of Trinidad steel drums 16 years ago on a visit to the Caribbean island. Hooked on what he heard, Carl brought the sound back to his home on Cape Cod and started the band. Trinidad islanders created the unique drums nearly 40 years ago from 55-gallon oil drums. The sounds from these metal drums are infinitely varied. Some listeners say they can hear the notes of horns, strings and keyboards when the drums are played. Steel drums don't quite sound like Barbara Meehan, John Spinale, and Susan Zartman, Guidance Counselors at ORR, recently completed a week-long group guidance program in all junior English classes. The program covers career and educational information, including the Harrington-O'Shea Interest Inventory and Steps in the College Application Process. The parent information night is intended to help parents understand the steps to follow in preparing for post-secondary education. Materials will be distributed on college applications and the financial aid process. Although the program is aimed at parents of juniors, parents of younger students are encouraged to attend.

We need your help. Each year the Lloyd Center sets a day aside when we ask for volunteers to help us spruce up our building and grounds. Volunteers and staff work together on projects where many hands make for light work. This year we will be concentrating our efforts on our trails and gardens. Join us for all or part of the day, beginning at 9:00 a.m. Saturday, April 28th (rain date on Sunday, April 29th). Bring a lunch, we will provide hot and cold drinks. If you have any questions or need directions call the Center at 990-0505.

Other future programs on the Lloyd Center's calendar are: Spring Wildflower Walk on April 29, Paskamansett River Canoe Trip on May 5, and a walk on Early Shore Birds at Allens Pond on May 6. Look for these and other upcoming events to be announced in your local newspaper or call the Lloyd Center for more information.

Please pre-register by calling or write the Lloyd Center, 990-0505 or Box 7037, South Dartmouth, MA. 02748. Weekly walks are made possible in part by Bristol County Development Council, Inc.

as its direct link to the great New Bedford glass houses through a pair of Bohemian immigrants, decorators Frank Guba and Herman Knechtel. Both artists had trained in Bohemia, and emigrated from the great decorative center of Steinshonau, known for its artisans work on porcelain and glass.

The last decades of the 19th century were the golden age of decorated glass throughout Europe, as well as for the New Bedford wares of the Mount Washington and Pairpoint glass works. The Bohemian Connection documents the impact of the Bohemian style with many never-before-exhibited design sources, collected and used by the artists Herman Knechtel and Frank Guba.

The exhibition includes works from the NBGM collection as well as loans from private collections. A highlight of the exhibition will be original drawings by New Bedford decorator Knechtel (active 1890-1935), never before exhibited.

The New Bedford Glass Museum is open 10:00 to 4:00 Monday through Saturday. The special exhibition will be on display through May 13th.
